

RAISED SURFACE FINISH

The inscription, borders, motifs and other raised elements of the plaque are highlighted in metallic bronze. This is achieved in one of two processes:

> Linished Surface

This is our standard surface treatment. The plaque is passed under a flat moving endless abrasive belt.

Close examination of this surface will show a sharpened edge and a very fine grain running in the direction of linishing.

> Polished Surface

If required, the metallic luster can be further enhanced by polishing. This process is carried out with hand tools and achieves a flawless surface with rounded edges.
